city's position to protect the resident against the ruthless earth movers.

"Conscience and duty to the public says I must pursue these," said Griffith. He pointed out that he made several appearances before the election to get satisfaction and received none.

Corey sat back and listened to the dialogue between Griffith, Van Dusen, City Manager Gerard Vergeer, and City Attorney Joe Galligan until he admitted he could contain himself no longer.

"You talk about your restoring faith in these people," said Corey to Griffith. "First you've got to have some. This (sitting on the council) is the side you come up with the solutions. Our job is to provide reasonable solutions within the framework the council allows."

"We have a good city staff. It irks me in what I see to be an effort to embarrass city employees. I'll admit there are valid criticisms. But until substantial validity is known these questions shouldn't be given so much weight. You should ask questions for the purpose of isolating the problem, not to embarrass or seek public attention."

Griffith pointed out that in fact the reason he was asking the questions was in an effort to find out "how to keep dirt haulers from harassing our citizens, and how to prevent them (the citizens) from making up a deficit (if the city were too lenient with the contractors on Sneath Lane)."

Hamilton reiterated much of Corey's statement and added a remark about the dirt haul situation being with the city for a long time, but never a real hot item until the recent election when Griffith used it as a platform.

"I think a file of letters about dirt haul through the years signed with my name will show this was not an overnight thing," retorted Griffith to Hamilton's statement.

At least two residents, both in the audience, backed Griffith. Mrs. Rose Urbach, of 440 Euclid Ave., said, "This is an old story, the same as jet noise. I don't feel the council is doing anything about either of them."

"San Bruno seems as though they enjoy airplanes and don't care about noise. San Bruno says 'come on we love you' to the airplanes and the dirt hauls."

Corey pointed out that a city in Southern California (Inglewood near Los Angeles International Airport) was successful in a suit against airplane noise. He was quick to mention that the suit was initially brought by a private attorney. "The people have to seek some (private) legal remedy," he said.

Then on the subject of Sneath Lane and dirt hauls, Les Keltling of 2791 Crestmoor Dr., went into a long dissertation concerning when the Sneath Lane project started in 1968 with a $238,000 contract and how it was to have been completed within 180 consecutive days.

"Strange," said Keltling, "speaking as someone from the other side of the microphone (a barb at Corey for being critical of Griffith's probing questions), that the 180 days took almost two years to complete."

Keltling inferred that other areas have been able to control dirt hauling, but since completion of Sneath Lane and a ruling about hauling from public utility to public utility "there is no legal way to stop them."

Corey, who had cooled off some, admitted that maybe the citizenry had gotten out of hand. The council passed a quick resolution to do something about it.

Subjects to be taught on the campus will include English as a second language, interior decorating and arts and crafts.

In other business, the commissioners approved a use permit of Frontier Construction Company to establish an automatic car wash on the north side of Spruce Avenue, approximately 200 feet west of Myrtle Avenue.

The city's preliminary beautification program, with an addendum, was approved. The added proposed projects include a civic center site on the north side of Miller Avenue between Walnut and Maple Avenues, and beautification of the urban core to include establishment of a mall and emphasis on a shoreline park.

The operators of a South San Francisco bar, and three patrons who claimed they were "imprisoned" in the place, filed lawsuits in Superior Court in Redwood City last week for a total of $127,626 damages.

Named as defendant, and as the man who padlocked the front door while the patrons were inside, is James W. Griffin of South San Francisco.

Plaintiffs are Emile and Margaret Casali, operators of the Towne House Bar at 115 Grand Avenue, and their customers, Robert J. Meredith, Alberto H. Griego and James Ramey. The suit was filed for them by attorney Fred W. Klarenbach Jr., of San Bruno.

According to the Casalis' suit, Griffin, who claims an ownership interest in the business, placed a padlock on the front door on the night of February 4, trapping the patrons and a bartender inside. They were "imprisoned" for more than an hour until police came in response to a phone call and set them free.

The suit asks $50,126 actual damages and $22,500 exemplary and punitive damages.

Some delay in billing might be expected this month.

At that suggestion, Topping asserted his simple reaction: "The only thing I've got to say is that in about 30 days we'll be out of business."

He didn't comment openly after the final decision to go back to the $2 rate, however, earlier he hadn't liked the idea of having to go back and revise all the billing cards.

Unionization Is Stalled In San Bruno: 3-2 Vote

gaining groups. It also names the city manager as the authority for giving recognition to these groups.

And City Mgr. Gerard Vergeer contends that Murphy's organization can't represent a group that is already represented. Vergeer has recognized a firemen's group and the San Bruno City Employees Association, which is affiliated with no one, for the miscellaneous employees.

Vergeer produced a 42-signature petition of the association to illustrate that this number of the roughly 70 miscellaneous employees desired to be part of the San Bruno Association.

The petition stated, "In order for the San Bruno City Employees Association to acquire formal recognition as an employee organization for the purpose of meeting and conferring each member has been requested to endorse the following roster."

"As members in good standing with the San Bruno City Employees Association we hereby support and request formal recognition as an organized group." The petition was dated April 15.

"Mr. Vergeer knew of the interest of our organization when he fathered this petition," said Murphy. "This continual rivalry and competition is what we are trying to avoid by having every one represented under one organization."

Murphy asked that the council recognize his unit, offer an election, "and winner take all." He said he had pledge cards from at least 40 per cent of the miscellaneous employees.

Councilman Dick Griffith, who is a union man with the post office, moved that the unit be recognized, that the pledge cards be given to an unbiased third party to check their validity and to see that the union has met all requirements of the city ordinance, and that the council then further study the matter.

This motion was seconded by Councilman Ted Long, who along with Griffith voted for the motion.

Councilman Maurice Hamilton said he took the motion to infer that Vergeer couldn't be trusted for good judgment.

Councilman George Corey said that he felt the only reason for the motion could be that it favors the "overturning" of the 42 signatures offered by Vergeer by seeking a new vote.

Long pointed out that since there are 42 signatures and only 70 employees, a vote would defeat Murphy on the face value of these facts.

Mayor Neil Christal, the deciding vote, said that one organization already has been recognized by Vergeer. If Murphy would like to represent the remainder of the miscellaneous employees he certainly had the right to do so. But for now, Christal was voting against the motion.

The older gunman whirled around and fired a shot at Kirby, who returned two more shots at the fleeing vehicle.

The suspects managed to evade Kirby near Skyline Boulevard during a high-speed chase. Some $2,500 in cash was stolen from the restaurant.

this council had not approved the sign?" Papan asked.

Moore did not answer.

City manager David Rowe noted that the signs had been installed prior to, and without the approval of, the Planning Commission.

He said legal action would be initiated to insure the signs were taken down.

With councilman Bernard (Bud) Lycett at the mayor's post for another year (his fourth) the council considered use permits for three other businesses operating in the city, along with approval of a tentative map for subdivision of a parcel of property at the corner of Eastmoor Avenue and Terrace View Court, submitted by Doelger Corporation engineer T. V. Tronoff.

City Manager Rowe informed the council of a letter his office had received from Albert Frost, of 687 Sylvan Street, Daly City, concerning investigation policies of the police department with reference to towing and storage charges on stolen vehicles.

Frost reported his motorcycle stolen on February 28, and the police department notified him of its recovery on March 13—two weeks after the report was made.

When he went to claim the motorcycle he was charged $57.50 by a local service station where it was stored.

Frost said he could not understand the delay in checking the ownership of the vehicle out inasmuch as there were only four motorcycles recovered during the period of his report, plus the high cost of releasing the motorcycle because of the "evident laxity of the police department" in locating the legal owner.

Police responded to the obvious satisfaction of Frost, manager Rowe said informing the victim that when they found the motorcycle (some three days before it was reported stolen) it had been stripped and the CHP in Sacramento had to use manufacturer's identification numbers to trace ownership.

Once this was accomplished, Frost was informed of the recovery, chief Roland A. Petrocchi answered.

The council adjourned to a closed door hearing to discuss pending litigation and personnel matters.

Airport Link Discussed At D.C. Meeting

the facility built without the additional supports, the transit terminus could not be located inside the building because of added stress, engineers have warned.

What the representatives agreed to do was adopt a resolution that would urge the allocation of funds from the PUC coffers and would leave the door open for the Commission to later reclaim the money as part of the over-all cost of the system.

Attending the first formal meeting, which elected San Mateo Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald as temporary chairman, was Mayor Alioto, San Francisco Supervisor James Maillard, San Francisco City Administrator Tom Mellon, BARTD General Manager Bill Stokes, San Mateo County Engineer Don Wilson, State Division of Highways Engineer Alan Hart, San Francisco City Planner Alan Jacobs, Daly City Councilman Frank Pacelli (standing in for former San Bruno City Councilman Karney Barberian), South San Francisco councilman Frank Bertucelli and other San Francisco and San Mateo officials.

The representatives also approved the $567,000 budget, thus clearing the way for formal application of federal funding of part of the study project.

Stokes explained that while certain flexibility existed between line items within the budget the overall figure was the key item in the proposal.

Because of the way the Federal Government has been appropriating money, planner Jacobs suggested the process for approving the budget and certain other matters connected with the grant application be speeded up.

San Mateo County's share of the study costs are $77,000; San Francisco's $50,000 and BARTD's some $7,500 plus certain services. The remainder will be picked up by the federal government.

San Mateo County engineer Don Wilson expressed some reservations about including the Airport terminus station supports in the overall costs. Alioto argued the terminus was a necessary part of the overall system.

A question regarding a statement made last week by a San Francisco official over the use of the word "dead end," was brought up by Supervisor Fitzgerald, who asked for clarification from BARTD on whether the line would have a "stub" before it swings into the airport in order to later extend the track down the Peninsula.

"If there isn't (a stub) we're not in this study," Stokes, a strong advocate of extending the line completely around the Bay to Hayward, answered.

The meeting was hailed by Mayor Alioto and Supervisors Maillard and Fitzgerald as "productive."

Daly City Council Enjoys An Evening Of Eloquence

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post-Times Writer

The council meeting in Daly City April 21 was punctuated by eloquent speeches praising outgoing councilmen Edward J. Dennis and Micheal DeBernardi for their years of service to the city.

There were a few genuine tears too from retiring councilman Dennis and the people seated in the audience who had supported him during his 20 years on the city council.

The occasion was the swearing-in ceremonies for newly elected councilmen Louis J. Papan and McRobert Stewart, along with incumbent councilman Bernard J. Lycett.

Lycett best summed up the feelings of many when he noted:

"Though this is primarily a joyous occasion, there is a touch of sadness in tonight's meeting in that we are losing Councilman Dennis and Councilman DeBernardi."

DeBernardi was first elected in 1954 and remained continuously on the council since that time, assuming the role of mayor from December 1963 to April 1965.

Dennis did not serve consecutive terms on the council. He was first elected in 1944 and was re-elected in 1952 and 1958. In 1959 he became mayor of the city.

Lycett, who retained the mayor's post for an unprecedented fourth consecutive one year term in an unanimous vote of the council Tuesday night, traced some of the major projects Dennis and DeBernardi worked on during their terms of office.

"Every month for a total of 36 years between them, thousands of decisions have had to be made, some popular, some perhaps not. The amount of time devoted to city business cannot be measured.

"Councilman Dennis and DeBernardi are leaving the council, but they can look back over the past years and accomplishments with a great deal of pride. Their efforts and accomplishments present a challenge to our incoming councilmen," Lycett said.

The "Old Pro" as many referred to Dennis, had his own thoughts on leaving the council bench:

"I feel just like a bird leaving his cage," he said.

Dennis said it was time he moved out "and the council got some young blood in."

"I look back over the years and I know one thing for certain... I always kept my word. If you keep your word to people you don't have to go back and make retractions. I always kept my word," Dennis said.

He said the council job paid $15 a month when he was first elected "so you can see I didn't take it for the money."

Dennis praised the City's unpaid Commission members for their efforts on behalf of their fellow citizens.

The tears came after Dennis introduced his wife, Hilda, and credited her with being the major factor behind his success as an effective councilman.

Then he stepped down from the seat he had held for two decades, clutching the special commendation the council presented him.

DeBernardi spoke ten words in parting after noting he would make his remarks brief.

"Thank you all. It was a privilege to serve you."

A little levity entered the installation session when councilman Louis J. Papan returned to his seat by mistake after being sworn in by municipal judge Charles Becker. Lycett reminded him he was now on the council and could no longer sit in the audience.

Following the swearing-in ceremonies administered by municipal judge Becker and superior court judge Frank Blum, councilman Papan said he intends to "honor all the commitments made during my campaign."

Papan said he would travel "anywhere at anytime" to represent the people and would encourage his fellow councilmen to go into the city's neighborhoods with him to seek out problems and to "listen to the people."

One goal that will always be in his mind, Councilman Stewart said, would be "What can I do for my city."

Invisible Hearing Aid?

No. There is no such thing as an invisible hearing aid. If that's what you are looking for, please don't bother us. HOWEVER, if you'd like a small, lightweight, inconspicuous aid that will let you hear clearly... then by all means see us. We have what is probably the Bay Area's largest selection of famous Radioear hearing aids and other nationally advertised brands, reasonably priced from $179 to $339. Trial period and budget terms, of course.

PACIFICA'S CITY COUNCIL has named businessman Nick Gust mayor for the third straight term. Gust (right) congratulates former Laguna Salada School District Board of Trustees President Stanley Farber after the pharmacist was sworn in as a councilman April 21 by Superior Court Judge Conrad Reisch, former Pacifica city attorney.

Assignment To Oceana Is Approved

As predicted, the proposal April 20 of Jefferson High School Dist. Supt. Edward Morgan that Rockaway Beach-Vallejo freshmen next year be assigned to Oceana High has been approved by trustees.

The students involved presently are eighth graders in the Laguna Salada Elementary School District and their brothers and sisters attended Terra Nova High School.

The boundary change, explained Morgan, does not affect students currently attending Terra Nova, although consideration would be given those Vallejo-Rockaway Beach students who request a transfer to Oceana.

Overcrowding at Terra Nova is the reason for the change, Morgan pointed out.

Teacher Is Released

Jefferson High School District trustees, upon recommendation of District Supt. Edward Morgan, have voted to terminate the services of probationary teacher Michael Calvello.

The action came after a hearing officer sustained charges leveled against Calvello in early March by Morgan. Calvello had appealed the district's earlier decision not to grant tenure to the Serramonte High School English teacher.

Among the charges, which included insubordination, was one that claimed Calvello refused to move obscenities painted on his vehicle which was parked daily on the campus.

Other allegations: Failure to follow instructions of his department head; allowing students to grade themselves in violation of the education code.

Date of termination is to be June 30, the board decreed.

Broadmoor Director Meet Set

The annual meeting of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association will be conducted at 8 p.m. May 14 in the Community Center at Eighty-seventh and Washington Streets.

President Al Ickler urged all legal homeowners of Broadmoor to attend, inasmuch as new board members and officers will be elected.

HOMEOWNERS!

- When you bought your home did you buy it as an investment?
- Would you sell your home for the same price you paid for it?
- What do you think has happened to the value of land in your neighborhood?
- Would you like to own recreational land where some experts predict will be a boom area?
- Would you be willing to invest 30 minutes of your time to find out how you can participate?

Parking Tag Saves Officer From Injury

Motorists may frown when they get a parking ticket but Daly City police officer Rich Brewer credits the small slips of paper with saving him from serious injury Friday.

It happened about 10 a.m. as officer Brewer — the city's meter-maid, or rather meter-man — hopped from his small three-wheeler to write a parking tag on Hillcrest Drive near Mission street.

No sooner had he left the vehicle when it was hit and demolished by a car driven by James Fay, 19, a shipyard worker living at 366 Willits Street, Daly City.

Fay was arrested and booked into City Jail on drunk driving charges. A 17-year-old male passenger was sent to Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center on charges of being drunk.

After the suspects were booked and the wreckage cleared away, officer Brewer finished writing the parking tag.

North County Pupils Aid In Cleanup

Students cleaned up much of northern San Mateo County, as well as nearby portions of southern San Francisco, including their own campuses Wednesday.

They also participated in a variety of other "Earth Day" activities, including ecology teach-ins and plant-ins.

Young people from Daly City's Jefferson, Serramonte, and Westmoor High Schools and Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School flocked from their classrooms to the fields, school grounds, beaches and streets.

It was their one-day effort — to date — to dramatize the ills of pollution and their interest in regional ecology improvement.

Each school acted independently of each other.

In some instances, students painted restrooms.

A sign at Oceana High in Pacifica sums much of the student thinking:

"Ecology Begins At School."

UNDER the guidance of teacher Al Sinor (background), the students went down to Colma Creek to extract samples of the effluent. The experiment was one of hundreds of activities dramatizing environmental awareness throughout the Peninsula.

Wednesday, April 29, 1970 THE POST

LINDA LUTTE and Dan Wagner helped with the chemical end of experiments at Colma Creek during Earth Day activities Wednesday. Students at Jefferson High School treated the sewer water and then chemically analyzed the water for organisms.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss ... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it could not be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss ... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try it for 32 days and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any weak hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair ... now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

For more information, write Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., and if they believe the treatment will help you, they will advise how you can take advantage of this 32-day trial at a special introductory price with a money-back guarantee. Just send them the information listed below.

THE LARGEST AND FINEST PATIO SELECTION IN THE BAY AREA

Lake Merced Golf Club's Groundsman Will Speak

Lake Merced Golf and Country Club Grounds Superintendent, Edward Berardy will be the featured speaker at the Daily City Garden Club meeting, Tuesday, May 5 at 8 p.m.

Berardy was employed by the golf club as a teenager and has worked his way up to his present position. Through the years he has been a pioneer in experimenting with new ideas and methods in maintenance of lawns.

He now is writing a procedures manual for the use of the Country Club. Horticulture students from the University of California frequently make field trips to study Berardy's methods.

Sections in the monthly flower show will include the following horticulture classes:

1. one cut bloom; and 2. one potted plant.

Entries in the following floral design classes will be accepted: 1. "Spring Etude"—a line design, accessories permitted; and 2. "Spring Minuet"—a miniature arrangement not over eight inches all fresh plant material. Members are urged to take entries in both sections.

President Mrs. John Fern invited the public to attend the program on lawn care and maintenance at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Benjamin Franklin schools 70 piece concert band, directed by Miss Janet Gayner, will open the program and their newly formed Stage Band will make its first big appearance at a band concert at Westmoor High, Daly City, at 8 p.m., May 8.

Westmoor's Concert Band under the direction of Howard Loeffler will open with selections from the musical, "1776," then play the well-known "William Tell Overture" and Jim Bari, student leader, will direct the epic, "The Blue and the Gray."

Westmoor's award winning Stage Band will be the last on the program, featuring two arrangements by the student leader, Greg Adams, plus his "Costa Mesa" composition and a new arrangement written specially for this performance from the show, "2001."

A former student, Larry Blake, will direct one of his arrangements. A rock group of dancers and the Modern Dance Class will provide a change of pace.

Daly City Rotary president Stan Cohen and president-elect Jack Erickson attended the April 23-25 annual conference of Rotary International District 513 in San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel.

Banquet Is Slated For Celebration

A banquet at Martinelli's Steak Pit in Millbrae will provide the setting Thursday for the celebration of the Pacifica Chapters' observance of Beta Sigma Phi's founding day. Three local chapters will join for the occasion at 6:30 p.m. at the restaurant, 1180 El Camino Street.

Mrs. Della Thomas is serving as chairman of the Founder's Day Banquet. The toastmistress for the evening will be Mrs. Juanita Buchanan, outgoing city council president. Other members who will have a part in the program are Mesdames Shirley Gibbs, Florence Dickow, Dorcas Johnson, Ronnie Sanford, Dorothy Blasquez, Donna Shapton, Thelma Loss and June Nash.

Mrs. Dorothy Blasquez will present a message from the sorority's president. She has received this special message from the International Headquarters in Kansas City.

OUR LADY OF MERCY'S "Old San Francisco" festival begins April 30 and runs through Sunday night, May 3. Mrs. Frank Kelly (left), Mrs. Robert Rickert and Mrs. Peter Busalacchi have been busy for weeks preparing plants for the Garden Booth which will be among the 19 booths of interest. "Bugs the Clown" will be on hand to entertain the children once again and a chicken dinner will be served on Saturday, May 2. All proceeds benefit OLM School.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ROCCUCCI
Married Fifty Years

Robert Roccuccis Wed Fifty Years

Celebrating their Golden Wedding Anniversary recently were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roccucci of South San Francisco. They were honored by relatives at a champagne buffet given at the home of their daughter. The Roccuccis were married on April 10, 1920, in Corfino, Italy, and have been residents of South San Francisco for the last 49 years. They have three children, Mrs. Fred Orlovich, Mrs. Henry F. Sari, Jr., Renato Roccucci, and two granddaughters, Roberta and Renette Roccucci.

Don't you think it would be real nice to get Mom a gorgeous, comfortable rocker for Mother's Day?

Westlake MAPLE SHOP

This Mother's Day get right to the heart of Mom's RELAXATION problem!

Give her one of these supremely comfortable rockers that's styled with lots of flair!

Dads really get the best of it. For some reason, everybody thinks its logical to get Dad a chair or rocker for Father's Day. But... what about Mom? Look at it this way:

- (1) You know Mom likes beautiful things, right?
- (2) You know Mom likes to get gifts for the home.
- (3) Mom likes to sit down and relax now and then.

Well then, don't you think it would be real nice to delight Mom with a wonderful traditional rocker that combines stylish "good looks" with relaxable rocking comfort? You bet it would! The secret of these fine traditional beauties? The seats and backs are engineered with perfect "pitch" achieved by experts. This makes them the most-wanted, most comfortable, most easy-going of all rockers. This... a beautiful bargain that's all hers for beauty-naps and hair-setting sessions and rest breaks that make the difference between being a tired wife and a ready-for-fun loving mom. At once she'll notice the eye appeal design of the rich, slim lines. See how the warm wood tone finishes harmonizes with fabric-covered furniture. Mom will also like the easy-to-care-for "convenience" of easy cleaning. Do something really generous for Mom. Hurry to Westlake Maple Shop while selection is complete. Terms are liberal at Westlake Maple Shop.

FDR Drug Abuse Group Giving Thursday Program

The Franklin D. Roosevelt drug abuse committee will present a program on drug usage and abuse to which the whole community is invited Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Former drug users from Damien House, Teen Life and Serramonte High School will be present to each tell their personal story — how, why and when they started on drugs, their experiences, and what made them finally stop using drugs. The FDR drug abuse committee has been in operation since last year and has looked into different aspects of the drug situation and culled information from different sources in order to bring the most informative program possible to the parents.

The program is geared for all parents and fifth and sixth graders might find it informative and useful, a spokesman said.

The drug abuse booklets and information will all be available to parents.

Crittenton Circle Event

Members of the North Peninsula Circle Florence Crittenton are calling friends to invite them to their "Oriental Splendor" luncheon-fashion show Thursday at the Executive Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae.

Frank Dill, television and radio personality, will provide the fashion commentary for the clothes which Fashion of Westlake are supplying.

Guests are invited to wear Oriental attire if they desire.

Prizes will include cash, two round trip flights to Palm Springs via Air California, a dress from Mister Robert, an orchid plant and wrist watches. Each table will also receive a prize.

'Those Were The Days'

THIS EXQUISITELY DETAILED white batiste dress with parasol and "doily" hat being modeled by Mrs. Edward Broadwater is included in the priceless collection of old-fashioned clothing to be shown in fashion show forum by Fashion Collectors Ltd., of Sausalito, at the St. Andrew's luncheon Saturday, May 23, at the Olympic Club, Lakeside. Entitled "Those Were The Days," the afternoon promises to be a refreshing frolic through the last century with suitable props and music to enhance the nostalgic effect. Tickets are available from Mrs. Herman Erler and Mrs. William Scheffler or after the 4:45 p.m. Mass on Saturdays, and the 9:15 a.m. through 12:30 p.m. Masses on Sundays at St. Andrew's in Daly City.

Louanne Heath's Datebook

SATURDAY EVENING is designated "The Cooks Night Out" and everyone who makes reservations for the "Old San Francisco" dinner at the Our Lady of Mercy Festival will be dining sumptuously on a chicken dinner from Joe's of Westlake.

According to Mrs. James Kelleher, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women, the dinners, which are being donated by the local restaurant, will be served between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the parish school on Elmwood drive. Take-out dinners will also be available to those making arrangements in advance. Mrs. Philip Glevo and Howie Poblitz are the chairman of the dinner and Mrs. Gerald Hips, (755-9484) and Mrs. Thomas Ricca (992-3665), are in charge of the reservations. Tickets are being sold for $1.75 for adults, 50 cents for children or an entire family for a maximum of $5.

In addition to the dinner and the wide variety of fair booths and games, the festival committee has arranged to have "Bugs the Clown" on hand Saturday and Sunday from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. to entertain the small fry.

The festival opens tomorrow evening and will continue through Sunday evening. Every adult attending on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday evening will be presented with a gift and various cash awards will be presented during the evenings.

Chuck Boerio is the chairman of this annual event. Assisting are the floor chairmen Mrs. Frank Lawson, Gabe Adami, Dick Galliani and Leo Revello.

A LIMITED NUMBER of tickets are still available for Oriental Splendor, the annual luncheon - fashion show sponsored by the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home.

The event, which will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Executive Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae, will be given an exotic touch by the number of members and guests who will be wearing clothes from the Far East. Frank Dill of KRON and KNBR will do the commentary on fashions from The Fashion of Westlake and Georgette of Westlake will have prepared a variety of lovely hair styles for the models.

A number of gifts will be presented to fortunate luncheon goers, according to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman. A Mirabelle wig, a money order, two round trip tickets to Palm Springs on Air California, wrist watches, an orchid plant and an electric floor polisher will be among the items to be awarded.

Mrs. Eugene Crandall and Mrs. Jerry Stringer are the co-chairmen. Mrs. John Vollers and Mrs. Rose Franko have charge of the hostesses; Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., Mrs. J. L. Hildebrand and Mrs. A. Mandoli are doing the decorations; Mrs. R. L. Ariani is preparing favors; Mrs. Albert Teglia has done the advertising posters; Mrs. Vincent Murphy is chairman of the models; Mrs. Freedman and Mrs. William Kennough are doing publicity; Mrs. Frank Specht, Mrs. Marie Meyer and Mrs. Emile Veille have done the phoning; Mrs. Paul Walters and Mrs. Harold Tonini have worked on the investments; Mrs. Michael Orlich and Mrs. Edward Odenthal were in charge of the programs and Mrs. Richard Ceconi, Mrs. Robert O'Neil and Mrs. Edward Morgan have done the work on door prizes, according to Mrs. Freedman.

Reservations costing $6, are available from Mrs. Frank Greenwood, 756-7916.

May 20 has been selected as the date for the outgoing president's dinner to be given for Mrs. Raymond Nightingale by the members of the Holy Angels Women's Guild.

In keeping with tradition, no announcement of the locale will be made in advance, enabling the executive board to surprise the guest of honor. Women of the parish who wish to join in this salute to Mrs. Nightingale are asked to call Mrs. Louis Caserza, 756-3396, for more information.

Guild members are reminded not to forget the May Crowning of the Blessed Mother during the 7:30 p.m. mass this evening.

The special mass will immediately precede the regular monthly guild meeting in the parish hall. Dave Campbell of the Holy Angels Men's Club will be the guest speaker.

MEMBERS OF THE ART GUILD of Pacifica are asked to remember that this is the last day to make arrangements for William Matheny to deliver entries to the Lodi 10th Art annual to be held at the Barengo Cellars at Accampo on May 22, 23 and 24.

Uppermost in the minds of guild members is the AGP Spring Festival of the Arts, usually referred to as the Mother's Day Weekend Show, to be held on May 8, 9, and 10 at the Fairmont shopping center.

Hermann Loger is the show chairman and Mrs. Kay Reinherz and Kurt Poehleman are assisting with the work of getting exhibits to the shopping center on time.

NOTE TO SENIOR CITIZENS! The annual Pacifica Fifty-Plus Club picnic, originally slated for May 16 has been moved up to May 9.

Emil Arnold is the general chairman and "B.J." Smith will assist him. Clifford Scanlon is chairman of transportation; games and program will be under the direction of Elizabeth Funderburge, Mrs. Lucille Rentmeester and Marall Smith. The food will be arranged for by Mrs. Edna Laurel Cahan.

A GROUP of teen-agers are distributing educational leaflets to Daly City residents. They are volunteer workers for the Daly City Unit of the American Cancer Society. They attend Jefferson High. They are competing against Serramonte High and Westmoor High to see which school puts in the most hours. At this point the Jefferson High students are ahead. Winners will receive 10 free dinners donated by Toto's Restaurant of Daly City along with a plaque for their high school. Teen-agers are urged to keep accurate records of how many hours they spend walking from door to door. Left to right are Richard Lee, Elsie Boyd, Cornelio Torres.

THE MARQUEE

Future No Mystery to '2001' Author

"The greatest single industry of the future is education and entertainment. The two are not incompatible. To a well educated man, everything is entertaining."

It was not a soothsayer or crystal gazer speaking, but Arthur C. Clarke, absolute expert in everything from science fiction writings, to aerospace. Authoring "2001: Space Odyssey" for director Stanley Kubrick was only one of his myriad projects, an undertakings he assumes with the aplomb of a Sunday gardener.

Ask him about the future, query him on the Apollo 13 moon shot, question him on the possibility of life on other planets, and he'll smile benignly and launch into such a dissertation that your fingers could break with the strain of writing.

Clarke is a British subject who lives in Ceylon six months out of the year, only enough to avoid paying taxes there since his income is already taxable in England and the United States. He's currently lecturing on "The Promise of Space" based on a television special by the same name.

He drops astronaut names like they were first coins, reaching into his portfolio to pass around pictures of the Apollo 12 crew and their wives who were his house guests last year. He gave them all underwater cameras and took them diving, off the coast of Ceylon. It is one of his many private business ventures and hobbies.

"As much as I love living there, if I stayed longer than six months, I'd be driven to crime or Switzerland."

THE AUTHOR OF SUCH RENOWNED LITERARY WORKS as "Childhood's End" (now being filmed along with his other work of fiction "Glide Path") confines himself to writing only short stories now. His lecture tour coincided with the re-opening of "2001: Space Odyssey" at the Coronet Theater beginning April 29. It has been gone from S. F. for four months now is in its fourth run in New York.

"I've seen it 15 times and still see new things in it. The movie was Kubrick's, based on my script which originated in my short story, 'The Sentinel.' We wrote it for the future, that's why it isn't out of date yet."

Clarke is so far ahead of his own time that although "Childhood's End" was written 20 years ago, it's ending has been likened to the much talked about film "Woodstock," not yet in S.F. theaters.

HE LECTURES ABOUT THE YEAR 2001 when he claims "technology will change the world as know it now, like the abolition of newspapers."

"We're on the verge of an enormous communications explosion. You'll dial whatever magazine or newspaper from the television set and read in any language, from any year, in any country."

"The space program is the best investment America ever made. God help any politician in the Eighties who has it on his record that he was against the space program."

According to the noted science writer, India has purchased the rights from ATS-F (Applicative Technological Satellite) to install educational television in 500,000 villages to teach Planned Parenthood. Since only 1 out of 10 Indians can read, they've already proven the social value of radio in China to teach the peasants how to plant a new strain of rice grains that will prevent ultimate famine.

"Radio astronomy will pick up life in space in the next century. We'll be on Mars in the Eighties. It's the only possibility after reaching the moon. Venus is closer but it is 800 degrees, he he said."

Friends Of D.C. Library Accepting Items For 'Fair'

Plans and work on the Book Fair sponsored by the Daly City Friends of the Library are proceeding very well according to Mrs. William George, president.

The Book Fair will be held Saturday, May 9, from 9 to 5, in the Westlake Shopping Center Mall.

The proceeds from this sale of used books and records will be used to purchase an appropriate gift for the Daly City Library.

Members Mrs. Donald Monson, Mrs. Thomas Jovick, Mrs. U. R. Kendree, Mrs. Anthony Barichevich and Mrs. George Windhurst have been busy pricing and sorting books at the Westlake Library.

Residents of the area are encouraged to continue bringing their contributions of books and records to the fire stations or the libraries.

New officers for the Crespi Parent-Teachers Association include:

President, Mrs. Johnny Dawson; first vice president, Mrs. George Taylor; second vice president, Mrs. David Kirby; Honorary Vice President, David Raffo; Recording secretary, Mrs. Gary Harris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Archie Mathis; financial secretary, Mrs. Ronald Ard; treasurer, Mrs. Barry Ross; historian, Mrs. Gale Fischer; auditor, Miss Eileen Nazarro.

Coupon Drive Will Continue

San Bruno Legion Auxiliary continue their drive for Betty Crocker coupons for the Crippled and Handicapped children at the Sonoma State Hospital.

The Parent's Association of the Sonoma State Hospital are building a recreation park on a ten-acre site for the crippled and handicapped children. General Mills will contribute $5,000 toward the project in exchange for 1,000,000 points coupons from General Mills-Betty Crocker cereals, cake mixes, flour, etc.

A 'Walk For Mankind'

SERRAMONTE STUDENTS BOWMAN CHING, Elaine Ching, Cathy Bradish, Marian Ong, Evelyn Yee, Schot Mandeville, Ted Wong and Anita Olsen have found people to sponsor their participation in "Walk for Mankind" May 2.

This 22 mile walk starting at McLaren Lodge in Golden Gate Park is a part of the work of Project Concern, an organization aimed at aiding some 200,000 ill and starving children and adults in six clinics and three rural hospitals in South Vietnam, Hong Kong, Mexico, and Appalachia.

Sponsors include faculty members, administration, and friends and relatives of the students. Each sponsor promises to pay a certain amount of money for each mile walked.

The money raised by walking participants will be used to aid people in poverty and war areas by providing medical and dental aid, feeding programs, family planning advice, and educational programs.

MEMBERS OF SERRAMONTE'S-BUSINESS Department have been planning an innovative program for next year which they feel can be successful under a modular scheduling educational system.

An important class to be offered in this area is a short-hand lab. The lab will be based on improving one's skills at his own individual pace for learning. Mechanical aids will be available according to the following plans which are all a part of a wireless electronic system which has already been purchased: (a) an antenna loop will be installed around the ceiling of the room in which the lab system will be used (b) cassette tape recorders and a power until (c) ten channel portable student receivers.

Miss McCline commented that the importance of this electronic system is that it will "enable students to tune-in" to a channel of dictation consistent with his needs and abilities."

Miss McCline continued to explain that the shorthand lab is not only beneficial to Business majors, but also to other students in that it expedites and facilitates note-taking techniques.

THIRTY TWO STUDENTS at Serramonte took part in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

The test was given to enable students to find out their aptitudes in English, natural and social science, reading, word usage, and math usage. Students are compared on a national level with the top 2 percent eligible to compete for a scholarship.

Serramonte had a great number of students taking the test. Results for Serramonte were good with Christopher Reed receiving the highest score.

National results will not be in for many months so it is impossible for any school to announce how well it did compared to other schools in the nation, said Harryette Rucher, counselor at Serramonte.

Serramonte is going to have a program during the last quarter of the school year to enable students to make up credits.

Miss Karen Quick, head of the art department said students must check time they will come into the art room to work on a project the student is interested in. This will be considered an extra class which the student must attend at the same time each week.

Other subjects which are initiating this program include business, industrial arts, mathematics, and home economics. Hopefully all students who need the extra credits will participate in this program while they are given a chance.

New Slate For Group In Daly City

The Hermanos Latinos organization has elected a slate of new officers and will hold its first meeting at the War Memorial Building in Daly City May 17.

The re-organization came on the heels of a major disruption last week when the group's treasurer, Julius Castelan, and even others withdrew from the Hermanos Latinos during a meeting and formed a new group.

New officers of the Hermanos Latinos include Israel Alfonso (president); Alfredo Rodriguez, Mel Tafuya, Sister Adele, Fernando Navarrete, Mrs. Julia Monares, Miss Shelley Fernandez, Jose Jimenez and Jesus Luna (directors).

Meetings of the Hermanos Latinos are held the third Sunday of every month at 1:30 p.m. and membership is open to all persons interested in working with the Spanish-speaking people in social, economical, political and health-educational areas.

Hawaiian Holiday For Just Wed Pair

Honeymooning in the Hawaiian Islands are just wed Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robert Johnson who were married Saturday afternoon at 3 at St. Bruno's Church in San Bruno. The Rev. Frank Brady officiated.

The former Laura Nicolaides, the new Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Nicolaides of Hillsborough. Donald is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson of El Cerrito.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of empire styling with cathedral sleeves. The train was detailed with rows of lace streaming down the back and the headpiece was a delicate band of lace petals with a short veil and blusher.

Wearing a floor length pink crepe pants dress with a moss green velvet vest was maid of honor Nancy Chandler. Dressed in a similar fashion were bridesmaids Sandra Farber and Mrs. Gloria Thompson. Kim Bullock, the bride's niece, was flower girl and she wore a lime green dress with white lace detailing.

Best man duties were performed by Gerald Thompson and guests were ushered to their seats by Gary Frisvold and Melvin Clinch.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nicolaides chose a short hot pink and white organza dress.

After a reception at the California Golf Club, Laura changed to a red, white and blue three piece suit for her honeymoon.

A Burlingame High School graduate, the new matron attended San Jose State College and San Diego State College. Her husband studied at Harry Ells High School and received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of San Francisco. Donald also served with the US Coast Guard Reserve.

When the couple return to the mainland they will make their first home in Encino.

TERRA NOVA HIGH TOPICS

By Anne Dryden

Earth Day was celebrated at Terra Nova last week with class discussions, film strips and an outdoor assembly on ecology.

The Conservation Club arranged for a University of San Francisco professor, Dr. Mullen, to address hundreds of Terra Nova students on the football bleachers. Posters around the campus advertised the day's theme with brightly colored flowers. Mrs. Colleen Vaughn's girls' P.E. classes went on a nature hike and picked up litter along the way.

Local ecology has become quite the big issue at Terra Nova recently. Principal Thanos Panagoulis declared several areas off-limits to students during lunch because of the littering and malicious vandalism that has taken place. Until further notice, all athletic fields including football stands, baseball stands, and adjacent areas, including the lawn area on which the school sign is located, as well as all parking lots, are off-limits to all students during lunch. Students now are restricted to the cafeteria and adjacent patio areas.

Committees of students and teachers are continuing to evaluate the campus daily and award points toward Friday early dismissal. With the newly imposed restrictions, litter will hopefully be contained in one area.

With the pungent aroma of after-shave and perfume in the air, fathers and mothers invaded the Terra Nova campus for open house last Tuesday. Teachers donned their most pleasant smiles and dispositions to meet and greet the parents.

If there seemed to be few parents visiting the classrooms, it was because the school's music, art and drama departments were packing in crowds for their Fine Arts Festival that night.

Amid the bare frame of the Miss Pacifica Pagenat stage, the Terra Nova band and chorus presented a quick-paced presentation of music and song. Meanwhile, in room 39, drama students were presenting scenes, one-act plays and improvisations. Art students displayed and demonstrated their talents in the multi-purpose room.

This innovative, well-attended program was happily a change from the traditional "How Is Johnny Doing?" type of open house we usually see at Terra Nova.

Tiger Tales, the school magazine, is still on sale for 50 cents. Thirty-six pages of informative and amusing articles are guaranteed to entertain the reader. Buy a copy and find yourself on the cover.

Terra Nova seniors dined and danced in the elegant surroundings of the Cabana April 17 for their Senior Ball, "The Age of Aquarius." Ladies appeared in stunning hair styles and formal gowns; the gents turned up in formal attire ranging from white jackets to Edwardian costumes, to top hats and canes.

Music for the dinner-dance was provided by Jimmy Diamond and his orchestra.

The Jefferson Scene

By RILEY ATKINS

Richard J. Lee, salutatorian of the class of 1970 at Jefferson High School, will be honored at a banquet sponsored by Columbus-Founders Savings and Loan Association May 19 at Brentwood Lodge. Richard was named to receive the California Savings and Loan Outstanding Student Award for his combination of scholastic achievement, civic responsibility and school leadership.

At Jeff Richard has served as student body treasurer, commissioner of elections, president of the California Scholarship Federation, a member of the Human Relations Committee and Model Senate, and as a delegate to the Model United Nations.

Richard plans to major in Civil Engineering preparatory to becoming a sanitation or environmental engineer.

play their forensic talents, but also teaches the many participants the ways of our United States Senate in Washington D.C.

The Junior and Senior Classes will sponsor a joint spring ball dinner dance on May 28, at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco. This marks the first time ever that the two classes have combined their junior prom and senior ball. A delicious menu is on tap for the two classes if they choose to dine at the hotel. A choice of Lobster Thermidor or Prime Rib will be available to the upperclassmen and their dates. The gala affair proves to be a successful and exciting first for Jefferson, and only the beginning of dinner dances in the future.

Jefferson's 11th Annual Model Senate will take place on the campus April 27, 29 and May 1. The Senate has become an honored tradition on the Jefferson campus. The entire student body is involved in one way or another; if a student does not portray a senator, he will certainly have the opportunity to view one of the three exciting sessions.

Legislation before this year's Senate will include bills on Ecological Control, Federal support to college students, repeal of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution, and a resolution declaring Martin Luther King's Birthday a holiday. The affair is not only a time for students to dis-

A Challenge Awaiting Those At Mary's Help

By WILL E. THOMAS
Post City Editor

A medical challenge awaits those at Mary's Help Hospital who are creating a Total Health Campus that will provide not only general-acute hospital care, but multiple out-patient services as well.

Sister Teresa, the Daly City hospital's administrator, admits to that challenge and others, in taking the T.H.C. concept from the drawing boards to a completed complex offering virtually all that is available in the way of modern medicine and technology.

"I think, actually," Sister Teresa told Weekend last week, that one of the greatest challenges facing hospitals today is the delivery of quality health care to all people as economically as possible.

She acknowledged, "And that's quite a task."

Individuals like energetic Sister Teresa and medically-enthusiased Dr. George L. Torassa Jr., director of the hospital's Regional Medical Programs (RMP) planning believe quality health care at minimal cost can be achieved best with the total health campus.

Mary's Help dominates a hill that overlooks much of the North County, its homes and businesses, and provides sparkling views when the weather and haze are right. It has become a landmark in its five years atop that knoll for residents in the area and for motorists.

It stands above almost all else-except San Bruno Mountain to the east.

"As a community begins to increase in size and population, the hospital, by its very nature of service, must grow with it in service and facility," said Sister Teresa.

Growth is being responded to by growth, even now, as top floors of the hospital are being completed—and some other floors being revamped—to provide expansion into the new areas of psychiatric, extended, long-term and increased coronary care.

The $2 million construction program is at its mid-point. Badly-needed office, conference and classroom space on the ground level near-completion of a 92-seat auditorium and continuing work on the top three floors of the ten-story structure is evidence that Mary's Help is sincere in its dedication to progress.

Early fall completion of the 26-bed psychiatric unit (eighth floor), 70 long-term care beds and an eight-bed monitored coronary care unit (ninth and tenth floors) is anticipated.

It's all inspired by the institution's belief, in its administrator's words, "Institutions must be responsive to the needs of the people they serve."

Sister Teresa looked more closely at this responsiveness in one new sector:

"I think we are really demonstrating flexibility in the services that we are going to be rendering very shortly."

We're the only institution in this particular area that will have in-patient and emergency psychiatric services come August 1.

This field, Sister Teresa declared, "represents a tremendous need."

Currently 24.6 per cent of the hospital's receipts have been coming through the Medicare program, noted Sister Teresa, in discussing long-term care.

Thus, expansion in that area similarly is coming.

"We find that patients who are over 65 take a little longer to recover, to convalesce," Sister Teresa pointed out.

"We have an eight-day average length of stay if a patient is under 65. It's almost two weeks or more for those over 65, but these individuals do not need the acute, intensive facilities we have here. If they could then progress to the stage of extended care which is not oriented so much to the numbers of intensive nursing professional personnel, it would be much less expensive for them."

She said the same thing is true of hospital construction:

"Even the construction of these extended care facilities represent about an acute hospital."

The dream, coming into focus: Take care of all the patients in one facility.

"This is what we're working to," acknowledged Sister Teresa, adding, "I think this is the area the hospitals are going to feel they must go."

At Mary's Help, the "campus" will include a comprehensive medical office building, convalescent care facility and a mental health center.

A greater number of parking spaces for the expected increase of visitors, doctors and hospital personnel is likely—along with development of a heliport to speed delivery of emergency cases from accidents.

There would be a "thrust" toward rehabilitation as the health stages progress — a "tremendous effort to rehabilitate these persons," so they can go home and "lead a normal life, as normal as possible in terms of their family, their jobs and everything else," commented Sister Teresa.

The next phase would be "home-help care" for those who can be cared for in the homes, she pointed out, noting, also, "We should try to do this, because this, too, would be less expensive than being in any of the other phases of hospitalization."

Such care would be all-inclusive, she emphasized:

"We're talking about all patients in need of health care."

There are many educational affiliations at the Daly City hospital, and Dr. Torassa talked about them as chairman of the department of surgery and the chief of its division of urology. He also is a past president of the medical-dental staff.

Quality medical care, Dr. Torassa emphasized, "Starts with the least skilled worker right up to the LVN's, the nurses and the physician."

He explained, "You cannot really maintain an institution without having the full concept of a medical campus, which means educational, research programs and clinics."

"We're seeing a change," Dr. Torassa acknowledged, "in our lifetime, of the social and scientific order, so this is bringing about a new structuring that is demanding that what goes on in surgery and medicine has got to be at quality, the very latest."

Now, this is "tough," he added, because since World War II, "there has been an astronomical explosion in knowledge — putting it all together and bringing it to the patient is hard."

He picked up Sister Teresa's line that Mary's Help is expanding, physically as well as in service, "to keep the patient who doesn't have to be in the hospital, out of the hospital."

"Hospitalization is being accomplished in a shorter period of time and we're having patients recovering and resuming normal activities who would never have recovered before... it's amazing what can be done... these patients can walk out of the hospital," Sister Teresa acknowledged.

She added that the costs aren't going to be reduced, "But if we channel all our energies in treating patients who don't have to be in the hospital, outside the hospital, we're accomplishing a great thing. If they're in the hospital, it's going to be costly, because we can't change the 71.9 per cent as far as personnel costs go. We're in an inflationary period and it's going up."

Mary's Help admittedly helps the economy of the area it looks across. Those who operate the hospital know that—and point to $5,900,000 annual revenue that goes out to the community in salaries, employee benefits and fees alone — nonetheless they acknowledged, in Sister's words, that "Much of our progress to date has been helped by the cooperation and endorsement we have received from the City Council of Daly City."

EARTH DAY, U.S.A., was last week, you may recall. Everyone knew about the special day, it was in all the papers, on telly, blared over the radio. Everyone knew about it! Everyone, that is, except some north county dump operators.

Seems the youngsters (and a scattering of oldsters) knocked themselves out to gather up trash and make our environment a little nicer, trucked the stuff down to a private dump in Colma, and was further discouraged from cleaning up the environment until they had forked over some clean cash.

The kids then trucked their load down to another dump where they got the same treatment. If ever there was a communications gap!!! One load did make it to the city dump at Mussel Rock. We can't help but wonder where the other loads finally ended up (???)

MORE EARTHY STUFF—Just learned that 118 pounds of old tied up newspapers will save one tree. Considering the size of a Sunday newspaper I can save a forest before next December. Let's all get together and save several forests? It doesn't cost anything, except some time.

AND THEN THERE WAS those kids on their way to an ecology meeting at CSM littering the environment with paper bags and orange peels... Some rather startling observations scrawled on a wall of Ben Franklin School in Daly City facing nearby apartments complete with peace symbols.

Maybe the mental midgets that painted this nonsense think this is the way to get their peace message across, but the people who have to wash it off have other thoughts on the matter.

Where, oh where were those guys going with that stop sign (concrete base and all) near Ben Franklin the other day? Unless we're slipping our gears, the sign was going from the school's music room to the spot where it shoulda been in the first place — a street corner near the school.

ANYONE OUT there in Readerland know where Dr. Vern Chaney of the Tom Dooley Foundation can get a portable calliope? The Jungle Doc needs the thing for one of his floating medical centers that travel up and down the Mekong River in Laos. Seems the natives get a charge out of the sounds (Chaney KNOWS this because of calliope records he has played on a phonograph) and are attracted to the boat for treatment. We practically promised Chaney the calliope two years ago and he's still breathing down our neck. Help, Help.

TWIN CITY COP CAPERS—Daly City officer Bob Bergstrom and Broadmoor's Walt Krizman have teamed together in recent weeks and already the merger is paying off — they've recovered several stolen cars discarded along the boundary lines of both cities. Just goes to show that mutual aid does reap its rewards.

SICK CALL—Jeff High trustee Jim Cooper, ill for several months, is improving. Our Man in Westlake, JUHSD superintendent Ed Morgan, figures if Cooper keeps up the good work he'll be occupying his trustee's chair some day in May... And Pete Markovich is now receiving people-types in his room at Mary's Help Hospital... D.C. Chief Roland Petrocchi crutching around the office after knee surgery.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF—S.F. Mayor Alioto wears gold cufflinks in the form of the Scales of Justice. (No, we don't particularly care, but how else do you suppose we can fill this space every week?)... Alioto's reply when informed that San Bruno's Karney Barberian lost the election by a mere eight votes: "He was robbed." (And we don't have any comments on that item either.)

SAN MATEO COUNTY has its Little Old Ladies too! Two LOLs conversing the other p.m. at the Flaming Pit restaurant in Serramonte: First LOL: "Where did you go on your vacation?" Second LOL: "We had a marvelous time. We visited the ghetto in New York." Come to think of it, we visited the ghetto on our last trip to New York, but I'll be darned if it could be called a "marvelous" experience.

WESTLAKE BOWL'S Johnny Swanson is talking up a special award for those athletes who have contributed much to their respective sport. Mind you, they DO NOT have to be athletes! And they may never get into Cooperstown, but they must be outstanding in what they have accomplished during their sporting lifetime. John's big push is for (and a great choice it is) San Francisco's Lefty O'Doul. Why? For introducing baseball to Japan and thereby bringing the countries closer together. How many persons can you nominate for the "Swanson Award?"

DR. GEORGE L. TORASSA JR., director of Mary's Help Hospital Regional Medical Programs, chats with Sister Teresa, hospital's administrator. (Post Photo)

Expanding Gas Test

Expanding gas is again testing the strength of the Capitol Dome. After a year of close votes (Carswell, Haynsworth, ABM, and Surtax) we had all hoped for less wind and more action. But the Douglas affair promises to stir up new gusts of rhetoric.

Congressman Gerald Ford started things with a long and somewhat confusing speech. For almost buried in florid prose were some serious charges that will have to be resolved. The matter may go no farther than an investigation by the House of Representatives, but both accused and accuser should want some questions clarified.

Impeachment is a species of prosecution conducted by the legislative branch. The House of Representatives enters charges and acts somewhat in the manner of a grand jury. The Senate tries the case and two-thirds of its members present must vote to impeach. Judgment only extends to removal and disqualification.

Because Congress is not a court, and because Congressmen and Senators are not expected to act in the manner of judges, such proceedings are likely to be accompanied by more heat than light. It is true that courts are affected in the long run by public opinion, but the process is inexorably slow and judges are largely insulated from the furries of partisan politics. Not so Senators and Congressmen. Their very function is representative and their actions are daily affected by changes in public opinion. In turn, they act as opinion makers.

The result in this day of instant and shock-oriented media is an atmosphere that is hardly suited to the investigation and trial of grave constitutional offenses. But there is no way out. While some experts argue that Congress could establish other ways for handling questions of judicial ethics and behavior, the only means now available is impeachment.

As public opinion is so intimately involved in anything congressional in nature, it is important to clarify some misconceptions concerning impeachment.

(1) There is nothing unfair or unreasonable about Congress in investigating the substance of Ford's charges. Certainly the Ginsburg cases, the innuendo concerning practice of law and Douglas's views about the right to revolt are proper subjects for such examination. The Justice has placed himself in an awkward position and should not be too surprised if required to testify under oath respecting these and perhaps other matters.

(2) The claim "that an impeachable offense is whatever a majority of the House of Representatives considers it to be at a given moment in history" is mistaken. The constitution contemplates an independent judiciary, and therefore provides that judges should hold office during "good behavior." While there is some confusion as to its exact application as to judges, the final section of Article II provides that "The President, vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be

Talk Is Not Enough

A letter from a college student reads, "Please help youth in its drive for a better environment."

Very well, but please understand that the environment will not improve until youth does more than talk and participate in ecology marches.

Youth can start the improvement by ceasing to contribute to the litter in the streets, the parks, the wilderness areas, the college campuses and local school yards. Youth can heed the warning of thinkers who speak as John A. Kouwenhoven wrote in his book, "The Beer Can by the Highway."

"A GOOD MANY Americans... have come to think that we have, in effect sold our birthright for a very messy pottage, breeding an irresponsible race who litter our vacant lots and our national parks with equal spontaneity... We look about as spasmodic cyclones of gum wrappers on subway platforms, at sodden banks of garbage between which rivers of industrial waste flow to the sea, at the beer cans strewn along the shoulders of our highways..."

Less litter makes a better environment.

You can be less selfish in your use of the environment. Wasteless water, stop making motorcycle trails through the fields and the mountains, cease to throw into the garbage things you should use, stop holding your festivals and rallies in parks and primitive areas, quit writing your smutty words and messages upon walls and upon sidewalks.

YOU CAN REALIZE that the environment will not be improved by riots nor by violence—As Emerson wrote, what we need in America are men and women "of original perception and original action, who can open their eyes wider than to a nationality—namely to consideration of the benefit to the human race... men of elastic moral mind, who can live in the moment and take a step forward."

To this end I offer some "good manners" adopted from Michael Fromes', "National Park Guide."

Maximum speed limits are posted. You will see more, and have a more enjoyable visit, if you drive slowly.

Use only designated parks and campgrounds, which are developed for your convenience.

Place all refuse in garbage cans.

Stay on trails, and on sidewalks or roads. They are marked and designed for your protection.

CARELESSNESS MAY START a fire, leaving behind desolation of blackened forests or cities, dead wild life, and even dead people.

Every natural thing, whether flower, tree, rock or wildlife, should be left undisturbed for your children's children to enjoy.

A better environment starts with the individual—one who has rid himself of ignorance, greed, strife, and superstition.

Serramonte Plan Wins Board Favor

By WILL E. THOMAS
Post City Editor

The first steps toward providing inservice leadership training for Jefferson High School District administrators and selected faculty members were taken by trustees in Daly City last week.

The action is part of an attempt to improve human relations on district campuses.

Proposals by Superintendent Edward Morgan were approved by all four of the board members present April 21.

They gave Morgan authority to engage the North County Mental Health Service and the services of William Lexter, a consulting clinical psychologist, to conduct four three-hour inservice leadership training sessions.

The trustees also told Morgan he could proceed with a plan to contact Dr. Frank Hawkenshire, a psychologist presently at Stanford University, to discuss some of the problems at Serramonte and other district high schools.

Following the discussion with Hawkenshire, Morgan is expected to return to trustees for action on other specific recommendations.

The moves follow recent disruptions at Serramonte High School, where incidents, said to be racial in nature, broke out and required the facility to be closed for two days.

After a series of student-faculty-administration and parent "rap sessions" on the new Daly City campus, a four-point plan to bolster Serramonte's human relations was presented trustees.

The board instructed Morgan to investigate.

Among the recommendations from Serramonte was that large numbers of the faculty and administration there undergo "immediate" leadership training.

It also has been urged that hiring of a fulltime human relations expert in the district be considered and that some type of professional experts be obtained to help Serramonte in the areas of small-group discussions—all-encompassing to include parents, students and teachers.

At this stage, students would be involved only indirectly.

Once trained themselves, administrators and others of the school's staffs involved could work with other district educators, Morgan indicated.

Morgan hoped the training could be completed by June 1.

The superintendent acknowledged Serramonte's difficulties was the catalyst for the proposal, but he was submitting his recommendations as a district-wide project.

"We must solve for ourselves the problems," Morgan said, "if we are to gain acceptable results."

Trustee Elio Fontana saw the proposal from Morgan as "good, liberal action."

Ahern Mayor Of South SF In Change

It's now Mayor Patrick Ahern and Councilman Frank Bertucelli in South San Francisco, as the two changed titles in a 3-2 roll call vote April 21.

Ahern, who topped the ballot in the recent municipal election will have, as his second in command the man he was second on the ballot and newest on the council — William Borba.

It took several ballots and considerable jockeying about in the usual South San Francisco council manner before final agreement was reached.

Initially, Councilman Warren Steinkamp moved to have Bertucelli renamed the mayor. The motion was seconded by Councilman Frank Mannini. But on roll call vote Borba abstained, leaving a 2-2 deadlock.

On the second ballot Mannini moved to have Steinkamp become mayor. This roll call vote produced a "no" from Borba, as well as from Ahern and Bertucelli, for a 3-2 defeat.

Then on the third try, Borba moved that Ahern be the mayor. The same 3-2 voting put him in. On Bertucelli's motion, all agreed to Borba's being the vice mayor.

Meanwhile in San Bruno, the two new councilmen, Dick Griffith and Ted Long, and veteran councilman Neil Christal were sworn in pursuant to the state code.

JURORS DRAFTED

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — there were eight jury trials at one time at the Lane County Courthouse, and the courts ran out of jurors.

So sheriff's deputies went into the downtown area around the courthouse and issued summonses to citizens to report for jury duty.

Chuck Holliday Quartet Thunderbolt Hotel-Tues.

Opening Tuesday in the Executive House Thunderbolt Hotel, Millbrae, for dinner-dancing is the Chuck Holliday Quartet. Playing everything from country and western, rock, blues and old favorites, the versatile group is known for keeping dancers and listeners, alike, entertained wherever they have appeared. Music and vocals to please every audience... Bar-n's Lounge had its own academy award celebration. Owners BeeGee and Angie Capos presented an Oscar to Margie Brandon, their talented organist, for "Best Entertainer in the City." Margie's magic personality continues to break all records at this Powell Street lounge... Jackie Adrian, the new singing discovery at Finocchio's, not only looks like his predecessor, Cary Davis, but sounds like him. Young Chuck Holliday Adrian has real stage presence, adding nicely to this all-around stage revue of female impersonators... Enrico Romano, sports car enthusiast and hunting buff, makes a pizza like you won't believe. Drop into his Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, eatery and try one of the large, medium or small sizes... Phil Lehr's Steakery, within easy walking distance of ten downtown San Francisco theaters and movie houses, offers convenient "one stop" parking for dinner and the show. Phone ahead for reservations — they'll have you in and out in plenty of time to catch the opening curtain.

Enjoy Dinner Plus Night Horse Racing

For a new thrill in dining out, set your watch for a 6:30 p.m. date at Bay Meadows Race Track. Sit back and enjoy dinner while taking in Quarter Horse night racing, presented by "Doc" Ward and the Peninsula Horse Racing Association. First race, 7:30 p.m. It's exciting and could be rewarding... Nick Gust's three Pacifica restaurants, Nick's, The Moonraker and Papagayo Room, are just 20 minutes from downtown San Mateo, via a scenic "over-the-hill" trek. Reservations are suggested... Are you planning to drive to South Lake Tahoe? Contact your nearest Park Avenue Tours office (there are four) and take advantage of the bonus drive-up package. Barney's Casino and the South Tahoe Nugget are the Nevada refund headquarters. This offer good the year 'round... There's a new name on "Hotel Row." Talented guitarist Stu Stoneback is now appearing in the lounge of the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco, Tuesday through Saturday evenings. It makes for happy relaxing.

"Doc" Ward

Bertolucci's Mediterranean Room, one of the Peninsula's most gracefully decorated group dining rooms, has been the setting for recent parties by Folgers Coffee, Crown Cork and Seal and Bill Arminio and the Jolly Friars Club. Companies and clubs should call Lola Bogdan or Larry Bertolucci, co-owners of the South San Francisco restaurant... Stuart Anderson's Black Angus Steak House in San Mateo officially opened last Thursday featuring a choice selection of one-price lunches for $1.75 and one-price dinners at the unusually low price of $3.95, which are attracting "stampede" crowds. All entrees are served with a crisp, tossed green salad, potato and hot ranch bread topped with Parmesan cheese. The prime beef that is served at Anderson's Black Angus restaurants (there are already seven throughout the Northwest) is raised on 20,000 acres of Washington's finest dry cattle country out of Ellensburg, also owned and operated by the Stuart Anderson Black Angus Cattle Company. This is the first time that Anderson has opened in San Mateo County and is not related to any other restaurant of similar name... The food served at the Greek Taverna is as authentic as the ethnic music offered by The Trio Orfeo.

New San Mateo Branch One Of McDonald's Best

The new San Mateo McDonald's, located at 1420 South El Camino Real, is among the first in the 1,150 unit nationwide system to replace the giant "Golden Arches," which have become the chain's famous trademark, with inside seating and new exterior architectural design. It also numbers among the first in the nation to include an expanded kitchen and newly designed equipment to provide for greater volume of food preparation and faster service to patrons. The new-type grill can run 60 hamburgers continuously at a rate of one every 17 seconds. Employing over 50 personnel, Manager John Waters says the new McDonald's restaurant has a capacity to provide some 1,800 sandwiches per hour, plus French fries and milk shakes to go with them. This family oriented restaurant has featured a limited menu built around hamburgers and assembly-line techniques to provide fast take-out service since 1955, when McDonald's was founded. In catering to some two million Americans daily, sales now exceed five billion hamburgers. "That's enough to have followed Apollo 13 to the moon and one-third the way back to earth," states Manager John Waters. "If those five billion hamburgers were shot into orbit, they'd form almost 13 complete rings around the earth at its fastest point."

San Bruno Youth, Ecology

Ceremonies of installation of the two new San Bruno councilmen highlighted youth and ecology.

Dick Griffith, the oldest San Bruno councilman at 50, who says he's "in no hurry to grow up," said he intends to propose three more teen centers in the city.

One of these he would like to see set up in the basement of city hall, in the civil defense room. Griffith referred to this as a teen government center "where young people could bring their ideas for a better world. We have to start on a city level," said Griffith.

The second highest vote-getting councilman also pointed out a need of the youth to have respect for their elders. And he didn't leave out the pensioners.

Main punches in this direction hinged on the question of whether it is best to do things "just because the law says the city government can," even if many of these moves are detrimental to the senior citizen.

Meanwhile, the youngest Bay Area councilman, 31-year-old Ted Long, who surged to victory on the ecology issue, said, "Our environmental concern is not just a fad or a political tool. It is something that must be acted upon."

"I think the fact that I was elected was in no small measure due to the concern (about ecology) of the residents of San Bruno."

"Saving our environment must start somewhere," said Long, "and I think San Bruno has taken a step in leading the way for the local communities."

"We have proven that there is concern. Now all we have to do is direct that concern into constructive effort and we are on the way to saving ourselves."

MRS. PAULINE ALLORO

New Store Names Manager

Mrs. Pauline Alloro of San Bruno is the manager of The Style Nook Apparel Shop at Serramonte shopping center, according to owner Richard Trinidad. Mrs. Alloro, who started in retailing as a part-time sales girl, had seven years managerial experience with two large clothing chains before accepting her current position.

She and her husband, Omar, have three daughters, Diane, 20, Linda, 18, and Paula, 14, plus a two-year-old grandson.

Born and raised in Daly City, she attended SF's Balboa High.

MICHAEL BEAZIAN, formerly of Daly City, now of Burlingame, will be honored by the Prudential Insurance Company in June for selling and serving more than $1-million worth of life insurance for the ninth straight year. With Prudential since 1960, Beazian is a member of the Million Dollar Round Table for seven years and will be honored at the company's National Business Conference in Hawaii.

DONNA LEE VAN SICKLE, the new "Miss Pacifica," and Susan Ellen Anton, Miss California 1969, share cake-cutting pleasure at reception following pageantry at coastal community's Terra Nova High School Saturday night. (Photos By Donna Starr)

A Full House
At The Miss
Pacifica Show

Miss Donna Lee Van Sickle has won the sparkling tiara of coastside royalty in the 1970 Miss Pacifica Pageant.

A capacity crowd at Terra Nova High School Saturday night saw the 20-year-old College of San Mateo student selected from among nine other beauties who aspired to the Miss Pacifica title.

So well attended was the annual function that some 100 persons reportedly were turned away. Among them was the John Sherman, the city attorney, and his wife, it was pointed out Monday night at the meeting of the Pacifica City Council.

First runner-up: Deborah Ann Fuller, a 17-year-old Terra Nova co-ed. Maria de Lourdes Jauregui, 19, also from Terra Nova, placed fourth in the pageant, which is an official Miss America preliminary.

Mayor Nick Gust said the Chamber of Commerce and those who worked on the contest could be "very proud" of the results.

He said he "couldn't give a suggestion" if he were asked how the award-winning pageantry could be improved. But Councilman Dan Modena had a suggestion: "Find a bigger place."

"I couldn't get in," Sherman said.

Freshman councilman Stanley Farber noted, however, that "Every year we hear comments on how it couldn't be better and every year it is."

Aubrey Lumley, who placed fourth in the recent council elections, was the executive director of the pageant, which featured not only Pacifica lovelies but a number of out-of-town beauty winners as well—including Miss California, Susan Anton; and young ladies from Contra Costa, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, San Joaquin, Santa Clara, Sonoma and Sacramento Counties.

Miss Van Sickle performed Swedish gymnastics for her talent portion of the pageant. The other three finalists sang.

The new Miss Pacifica, who received her tiara from outgoing Miss Pacifica Gigi Clark, next will compete in the Miss California Pageant State Finals June 18-20.

MISS ANTON indicates the cake was as good as she is beautiful at the Pacifica pageant, which has been awarded first place for staging by the Miss California Pageant the past two years.

THE TEARS began to swell, but the 1970 Miss Pacifica held them back as she began her reign after donning the tiara of her new office.

Sportscripts

LAST WEEK we whipped out our notebook and allowed Sam Levin, for nearly 30 years behind the PA system at Bay Area semi-pro games, to reminisce about the past, consider the present and shun what could be the very bleak future of the sandlots.

What we were saving for a surprise is that Sam, who is such the derivative of the baseball fan (ie, fanatic) that he still joins player fan clubs (his latest membership is in the Art Shamsky Fan Club), that one must imagine that he was born at home plate at the old Father Crowley Harrison Street playground, was born in London and hadn't seen a baseball game until his gym classes at Santa Rosa High.

Sam wasn't mystified for long, however, because he was soon in San Francisco and met Tony Patch, one of the all-time great semi-pro players and umpires. Patch was playing for the powerful Owl Drug team at the time and got Sam, who was fast becoming a fan under Patch's tutelage, interested in announcing. Sam started his PA baseball career at Father Crowley, which is now a bus depot hard by a freeway.

Levin became such a fixture at semi-pro games and was heard by so many over his radio show, that many constant visitors to the parks thought that announcing lineups and interviewing baseball players was his profession. But to Sam it's always been a hobby. He works in the payroll department in an insurance company. Sam says it's the greatest hobby any man could have. He wouldn't trade his memories for anything.

And Sam, as few people realize, isn't just a baseball nut. He's also an expert on boxing history and lore and a friend of many fighters, and was a football expert before he was a baseball buff. He used to announce the games for the Santa Rosa Bonerushers, for instance, when Ernie Nevers played for that illustrious semi-pro squad. He also did the Santa Rosa High games and saw such future stars as Dick Bass before they were shaving.

But it's the baseball memories that Sam most cherishes and best likes recalling.

THE STRANGEST THING he ever saw on a sandlot field occurred when he was working a San Francisco-Oakland Oldtimers game and a San Francisco Oldtimer, known in his playing days as a heady player, attempted to steal second base with the bags loaded—TWICE!

Then there was the funny-strange time that Yellow Cab was playing San Remo Restaurant, and, being ahead 12-0 going into the eighth inning, the benevolent Yellow Cab manager felt it would be nice to get everybody in the game, and cleared his bench. He even took the field for the first time in years. San Remo scored seven runs in the eighth, six in the ninth, and that was the last game that manager ever managed in the semi-pros.

Funniest thing that ever happened behind the mike had nothing to do with the playing field. Sam was announcing a game at Big Rec on a beautiful, stand-packed Sunday when an obviously nonplussed man approached him and asked if Sam had a lost and found department.

Sam informed the man that he was always happy to make announcements for lost articles. Whereupon the disturbed baseball fan whipped from behind his back a full set of false teeth. "I sat on these things," he shouted, "and they damn near bit me!"

Levin, always calm in an emergency, announced in his most soothing manner what he had waiting for someone at the announcer's booth. A few minutes later a toothless concessionaire eased cautiously into the seat next to Sam and whispered that the teeth were his. He had been watching the game and it was so warm that he thought he would cool his mouth. He had removed the teeth, set them on the seat beside him, and had then rushed off when his concession stand developed a line of hungry fans.

THE BEST STORIES concerning Sam Levin, however, are not told by him, but about him.

There was the time that Jim Kazarian, a little Mission High School catcher, now living in Daly City, was playing in his first game at Big Rec. It was an important game and a tough situation and the stands were packed. Kazarian, the smallest and one of the youngest guys on the field, was nervous as he stepped to the plate and was hoping he wasn't showing it. Probably he wasn't, except to long-time observer Sam Levin, who summed up the situation and then intoned into the mike, "Now batting, Jim Kazarian... He's a little man, folks, but he can bust that ball!" (Sam had never before seen Kazarian play). The fans applauded and Kazarian, suddenly calmed and confident, smashed the next ball out of sight.

"Good old Sam Levin," says Kazarian, "I'll never forget what he did for me that day."

Kazarian might well be speaking for all of semi-pro baseball.

IT'S EASY, WE KNOW, from where we sit, to cuddle up in our arm chair and take pot shots at some of the apparently incongruous things Clyde King's been doing with the Giants. One can never know from statistics and newspaper and radio and TV reporters what's really going on in the clubhouse.

But it seems to us that when a manager has only a nine man pitching staff to begin with, and then is confronted with his ace being out for the first month of the season (we hate to say we told you so, but we did mention somewhere around last December that the Giants gave up too much pitching in trading, even if it was mediocre), when he is carrying only two catchers and one extra outfielder when his Super Star is resting, which is frequent, that one may legitimately ask, what in hell is a manager doing with nine infielders, most of whom can't hit?

But what we're really interested in is a theory advanced by some experts that the Giants are going with all the kids because they haven't been able to win anything with the old guard, anyway.

If that rumor is true, it represents some warped thinking on the part of the Giants, and we prefer not to think the void left by Chub Feeney means THAT much difference in front office intelligence. Because the Giants don't need a complete overhaul. They've been too close too often for such drastic measures. They've had left field and third base and catching problems and have still been contenders. Now they've apparently solved the third base and left field problems. What's been losing games is the newly developed pitching problem and the old one of defense behind the plate (Dietz HAS to hit .400 and whack a homer every other game to make up for what he lets in directly with poor receiving and indirectly with lost pitcher confidence). It seems to us it would be easier — although a complete revamping would be a nice cop-out—to attempt to shore up specific weaknesses than to completely rebuild.

TAG ENDS (culled from other publications): We read in the Big Town dailies last week where 1) USF football coach Vince Tringali is complaining about his recruiting problems because everybody — since the riots at San Francisco State — confuses USF with S.F. State and wants to know Dr. Hayakawa's doing. Life is indeed ironic. When we were going to S.F. State 15-20 years ago, everybody confused us with SF and wanted to know how Bill Russell and Ollie Matson were doing... 2) San Diego Charger defensive tackle Houston Ridge has filed a suit against the Chargers charging conspiracy and malpractice in the use of drugs. And remember the couple of columns we did, recently, on the abuse of drugs in pro football?... 3) It looks as if Rick Barry will return to the Warriors. And didn't Franklin Mieli say he would, in this and dozens of other columns as long as two years ago?

EIGHTH TIGER WIN

Believe TN Hurler McLure Is 'Tiring'?

Summary Of Friday's NPL Action

Statistics show that Terra Nova's Bob McLure must be tiring a mite but don't try telling that to the other teams in the North Peninsula League.

Three games ago the Tiger lefty threw a no-hitter. Two games ago he threw a one-hitter. On Friday he allowed two hits. Tomorrow? Who knows? The opposition may even get close.

The Tigers downed Serramonte, 3-1, to remain atop the conglomerated NPL standings with an 8-0 record. Other NPL action saw Westmoor explode for 19 hits in blasting South San Francisco, 19-7; Oceana picked up win number one against Half Moon Bay, 3-0; and Jefferson held off a late Colt rally to down El Camino, 8-6.

McLure struck out eight and walked just one but the Tigers had to rally from a 1-0 deficit with single runs in the third, fourth and seventh. Ernie Manley, after walking, scored the tying run on a two-base Regent error.

Then Mike Calder singled to open the fourth, was wild-pitched to second and scored on McLure's single. Frank Multi's seventh-inning single followed by two errors and a sacrifice fly by Manley made it 3-1.

Steve Pointer and Mark Fadden combined to shutout the visiting Cougars and give Oceana its first league win after six straight one-run losses and an extra-inning loss. Fadden, with three innings of one-hit ball, picked up the win over HMB's Jim Emery.

Emery did more than a creditable job pitching no-hit ball in five of the six innings he threw. But in the fourth he walked Curt Lupo, Bill Funk and Miles Mintle slammed back-to-back doubles and Art Hernandez singled in the third run. Emery struck out 10 in the loss.

Up 8-0 as late as the fourth inning, Jefferson had to hold off a power-packed Camino rally to move into a second place tie, nailing pitcher Frank Edleman was sailing along with a neat three-hitter until Camino got hits from Darrell Lauer, Brian Finnlayson and Dave Bias to load the bags and set the stage for Al Spitzer's grand-slam home run, the first of the year in the NPL.

Tall Dale Conway relieved Edleman and stopped Camino's threat and Edleman then returned to the mound to hurl the final two innings.

Steve Javier and John Giannini picked up two RBIs each for the Indians while Mike Egipicaco had two hits.

Sophomore Ted Grey's perfect four-for-four afternoon led the Westmoor slugfest which wound out 19 hits off of five Warrior pitchers. Infielder Dave Riley got three hits as did first baseman Tom Billic.

The Warriors scored four runs in the top of the first off starter, and eventual winner Mike Swallow, but Westmoor rallied for seven of its own initial-inning runs in the 50-minute frame. The Rams scored another seven runs in the third and stats were all that mattered from then on out.

Play Ball!

PAMELA REYNOLDS, the Little League Princess, tossed out the first ball Saturday as the American and National Little Leagues began play in Pacifica. Mayor Nick Gust (next to Pamela) was among the city officials present for the opening games. (Starr Photo)

Jox Wins First In Coast League

The Jox moved into the win column in Pacifica's Adult basketball league by dumping the Nubs, 53-38, on the 119 point effort of Dick Young. Terry Chrisman was high for the Nubs with 15 points.

Kerri's Coffee Shop moved into second place in the standings by humiliating AAA 70-44. Bob With put on a fine offensive show with 26 points. Darrell Houston and Dennis Tomberlen paced the AAA with 14 point apiece.

The high flying French Club overwhelmed and shatter Dial Glass 63-45. Chris Gray led the way for the French Club with 24 points. Mac Smith was high man for the Glass boys with 15 points.

Bob Folger scored 16 points to led F-Troop past the vastly improved Sorefoot 46-44. Allen Lee paced the Sorefoot with 9 points.

Ram Tennis Team Splits

The Westmoor tennis team split their last two games, as the end of the season draws near.

Balboa was victorious over Westmoor April 20 with a score of 5-2. Westmoor players Greg Snyder and Robin Crawford were the only ones to win. Robin played a close one, 6-0, 6-6.

Westmoor came back to beat Crestmoor 5-2. Contributing to the victory were Gregg Georgakas, taking a 6-2, 8-10, 6-4 win; Pat Cotter, 6-4, 6-0, Greg Snyder in a 6-4, 6-0 victory; and Robin Crawford winning 6-1, 6-1.

Doubles team Dave Sausrod and Steve Broune defeated their opponents, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Facing their cross-town rival, Westmoor golfers continued their domination over NPL opponents, as they rolled past the Jefferson Indian's team.

Undertakers, Sportsmen In D.C. Triumphs

The Undertakers and Sportsmen scored major victories with the Daly City Recreation Department Adult 3-Man Basketball League to maintain undisputed possession of first place in their respective divisions.

The Undertakers "buried" the Volcanoes 40-10 and the sportsmen clipped the Astrojets 41-30. In other action, the Gators edged the Half Pints 41-20, the Athletics trimmed the Lucky 6 by the score of 62-58, and the Dagobats walloped the Pomona Casuals 40-21.

HOPES UP

Westmoor Rams frosh - soph baseball team kept their hopes alive for a good season by defeating second place Serramonte Regents 4-3, on the winner's diamond.

NPL Swim Crown For Terra Nova

Terra Nova's first-ever varsity swimming championship has ended a dream season for the Tiger merman.

The Pacifica-based swimmers, who also won the dual meet title, handily won the North Peninsula League finals Friday afternoon by 36 points over second-place South San Francisco. Steve Morgan's double victory, including one of the four new league records which were set, and a clean one-two-three sweep in the 100-yard breaststroke provided the push TN needed for the title.

Previously, South SF had won the title six times and El Camino won last year for the first time.

Greg Lowe of El Camino set a new conference record with a 2:01.5 time in the 200-yard freestyle and also took a first in the 100 free. Oceana's Howard Lum took both the 50 freestyle and the 100 backstroke while South City's Steve Pobuta set a new diving record for the second-place Warriors.

The meet was close between TN and SSF until Tom Neil, John Auleb and Bob Petty swept the breaststroke event to turn to meet in the Tigers' favor.

Jefferson High School took the frosh-soph division title by 12 points over South SF.

Hey, Kids: Mother of Year Event Deadline Saturday

This is your last chance to make your mom "Mother of the Year" as The San Mateo Times-Post and Westlake Shopping Center's big "Write-In" Mother's Day Contest draws to a successful close. Youngsters from three elementary school classrooms are among the entrants in the contest to date.

Final deadline for entries is Saturday, 10 a.m., May 2. Winners will be named in The Post, May 6.

A total of $325 in Westlake Shopping Center Merchandise Orders — which may be spent just like money in the Shopping Center — are the key awards.

First prize is $250 in merchandise orders, second is $50 and third $25.

Thousands of entries have already been received at The Post Newspaper Headquarters, 30 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

Drop into any Westlake Shopping Center store and pick up (no purchase necessary) an official "Mother of the Year" letter-entry form.

New Slate Of Officers For Group

The Hermanos Latinos organization has elected a slate of new officers and will hold its first meeting at the War Memorial Building in Daly City May 17.

The re-organization came on the heels of a major disruption last week when the group's treasurer, Julius Castelan, and eleven others withdrew from the Hermanos Latinos during a meeting and formed a new group.

New officers of the Hermanos Latinos include Israel Alfonso (president); Alfredo Rodriguez, Mel Tafuya, Sister Adele, Fernando Navarrete, Mrs. Julia Monares, Miss Shelley Fernandez, Jose Jimenez and Jesus Luna (directors).

Meetings of the Hermanos Latinos are held the third Sunday of every month at 1:30 p.m. and membership is open to all persons interested in working with the Spanish-speaking people in social, economical, political and health-educational areas.

Young Wife Kills Self

A 21-year old South San Francisco woman, despondent over marital problems, hanged herself in the garage of her parents' home yesterday, the coroner's office reports.

The body of Mrs. Linda Marie Thomas was discovered by her father, William W. Clayton, 336 A Street, after he found a note in which his daughter wrote: "Please forgive me as I will not be a burden now."

Deputy Coroner Charles Zimmerman said that Mrs. Thomas looped a light cord around her neck and around a rafter then stepped off a foot locker. She was discovered at 2 p.m. by her father after he returned home. Found the note, then called police to report his daughter as a missing person.

Zimmerman reported that Mrs. Thomas had been a voluntary patient at County General Hospital from March 16 to April 15 for treatment of a mental condition and that she had been in the hospital in January, 1969, after she slashed her wrists.

The deputy coroner said that Mrs. Thomas was separated from her husband, Charles Thomas.

TOP RATING

HANAU, GERMANY — Army Specialist Five Dennis C. Otto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Otto, 2810 Newlands Avenue, Belmont, was awarded a letter of commendation recently while serving with the 8th Maintenance Battalion near Hanau, Germany.

He earned the award for an outstanding rating attained on a recent inspection.

Spec. Otto, a clerk in the battalion's 507th Heavy Equipment Maintenance Company, entered the Army in June 1968, completed basic training at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and was last stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Sight Rule Is Eased

Requirements for police officers' eyesight was lowered by the Daly City city council Monday on the recommendation of the city's personnel board.

From now on the "long arm of the law" still has to be long, but his eyes can be less than 20-20.

Matter of fact, all they have to be to get on the Daly City police force after Monday's meeting is 20-30.

And for those policemen who wear glasses the new rules state "20-70 uncorrected, correctable to 20-30."

Without a doubt traffic police will still be able to make out the fine print at the bottom of a traffic tag, and that's more than the average motorist can do.

Candidate Hits Busing

Forde "Skip" Athearn, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in San Mateo County, in a statement delivered at a State Board of Education meeting at the Hilton Inn, charged that "funds being reimbursed to schools for busing children from desegregated areas by the Federal government were a waste of money doing more harm than good."

He further charged that "many local school districts are misconstruing the law. The busing of children away from their homes," declared Athearn, "im-

McCloskey Earth Day Stand Hit

Republican Congressional challenger Forde "Skip" Athearn today blasted incumbent Congressman Pete McCloskey saying "McCloskey has exploited the hopes of all Americans by turning the Earth Day activities into an out and out political rally."

"McCloskey used the non-partisan gathering at Stanford University Earth Day to further his own political ambition. A squad of workers complete with McCloskey button, moved in and out of the crowd dispensing pamphlets, bumper strips and political propaganda."

"This," declared Athearn "is the traditional ploy of the politician who takes a basically sound and important national issue and twists it for his own personal gain."

Political Roundup

Moneysaver Is Still Alive

A measure introduced in the State Legislature by Assembly Carl A. Britschgi of San Mateo County which would save the county upwards of $77,000 in every general election year is still alive.

The Bill (AB333), originally intended to give each county of California the authority to enlarge voting precincts from 600 voters to 1,000 was given a "due pass" recommendation by the Assembly Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments, but was narrowly defeated on the floor of the Assembly.

However, Assemblyman Britschgi succeeded in having the measure amended to make its provisions applicable only to San Mateo County and it has been re-referred to the committee. Hearing has been set for April 30.

The Bill has the support of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors and the County Clerks Association of California, based on recommendations made before both of these groups by Marvin Church, San Mateo County clerk-recorder.

Church today reaffirmed his support of the proposal in its amended form.

"It will save the citizens of San Mateo County a substantial amount of money," he said, "and may lead the way to similar legislation which will be of equal benefit to many other counties, particularly those with a high density population."

"It definitely is a forward step toward eliminating some of the anachronistic and expensive election procedures presently required by statutes that have been outdated for many years."

He suggested communications form voters in support of the bill should be directed to the Chairman of the California Assembly Committee on Elections and Constitutional Amendments, where our big problem is in the

"where I am sure they will have a favorable reception."

Tough Stand On Drug Use

Frank N. Ganino of San Mateo, Republican candidate for 26th District Assemblyman, takes a tough stand on the subject of drug addiction.

In a position paper issued today he said "there is far too much crime that can be traced directly to the use of drugs. And what is even more unfortunate is the high proportion of criminal incidents among juveniles."

Ganino notes that "there is no simple solution to this problem, but at the root of it is the so-called 'pushers.'"

"You don't eliminate weed problems in your yard by just mowing the lawn—you have to eliminate the roots and that is where our big problem is in the matter of drug usage."

Open Evenings and Sunday

LITTLE TERESA ANN MCCABE is not quite sure what she thinks of "Sir Tinny," the centuries-old suit of armor that Mrs. Joseph Fassler, president of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, is preparing for the Hillsborough Antique Show and Sale. The benefit will open Thursday at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds and run through Sunday. A project of the United Voluntary Services, the show will be open from noon to 10 p.m. Thursday through Saturday and from noon to 7 p.m. Sunday. (Ray de Aragon Photo)

Jugoslav Women's Club In S.S.F. Tells Annual Project

Mrs. Nicholas A. Sapunar and Mrs. Joseph Noero, Jr., co-chairmen, have announced that this year, the project of the Junior Section of the American Yugoslav Women's Club will continue to be the Recreation Center for the Handicapped.

It will be marked by an annual luncheon and fashion show which will also honor mothers at Del Webb's Towne House on Saturday, May 2. The fashions will be from Jon Robert in Stonestown and the furs will be from Benard, also of Stonestown.

The theme is "Swing Into Spring." Festivities will start at 11:30 a.m., with a no-host cocktail hour.

The Fashion Show Committee consists of: Investments, Mrs. Joseph Cimmarusti, Jr.; door prizes, Mrs. Adam Eterovich; program, Mrs. Michael Orlich and Mrs. John Soso; publicity, Mrs. Edward Odenthal and Mrs. Raymond Vuksich; decorations, Mrs. Dan Obradovich.

Models chairman Mrs. George Barulich announced that models will include Mrs. Joseph Cimmarusti, Jr., Mrs. Adam Eterovich, Mrs. William

THE RECREATION CENTER for the Handicapped is the current project for the Junior Section of the American Yugoslav Women's Club. This was disclosed recently by co-chairmen Mrs. Nicholas Sapunar and Mrs. Joseph Noero, Jr., above.

Michael Orlich, Mrs. William Pelster and Mrs. John Soso, as well as Miss Kathleen Sapunar and Miss Alexa Vuksich.

Tickets are $6 and reservations may be made with Mrs. Herb Luders.

On Sunday, May 3, the members of Beta Sigma Chapter of E.S.A. will join the members of Delta Xi Chapter of San Mateo for brunch at the White Whale, Ghirardelli Square, San Francisco, to celebrate Founder's Day.

President Mykell Hughes will make a special presentation to the Outstanding Girl of the Year, as well as a Zeus Award for the man contributing the most in time and service to the success and growth of the sorority during the past year.

The San Francisco Swiss Singing Society invites the public to its annual spring festival and picnic Sunday, May 3, at land, in El Verano, Sonoma Shamrock Park. Little Switzerland, in El Verano, Sonoma County.
